NIACINAMIDE (VITAMIN B3)

Plays an important role in soothing and restoring the skin barrier. It is responsible for the production of ceramides and free fatty acids that form a protective layer on the skin that preserves hydration, avoiding dryness and flaking. It neutralizes free radicals and protects skin cells from oxidative damage caused by pollution, sunlight and blue light. It stimulates cellular metabolism by increasing the production of collagen and elastin and counteracting the formation of wrinkles and loss of tone. Anti-inflammatory and soothing, it is suitable for people suffering from acne, rosacea or redness. It has an important sebum-regulatory action, thus reducing the risk of pimples or clogged pores and shiny skin, maintaining the balance of the microbiome. It reduces discoloration by regulating the function of the cells that form the pigment, making the skin more compact and homogeneous.

ZINC GLUCONATE

Has an important soothing, astringent and anti-bacterial action. Reduces the proliferation of bacteria and other microorganisms by soothing and drying pimples and blemishes. Relieves redness by promoting the normal skin physiology and forms a protective shield against sunlight and atmospheric agents.
